

Your CWED Fund Loan

Whether you are an existing borrower, a past borrower or a future borrower, the Central Wisconsin Economic Development Fund, Inc. wants you to know we want your business to be successful. It's important to us that you can focus on your business and do what you do best. Not every business owner is adept at all aspects of starting and operating a business.

Some of you just want to make the widgets, or the beer or the pizza. Once you get off the ground, hopefully you can just focus on the core of the business. But pulling together the necessary resources takes time and effort. We've worked with all types of businesses including restaurants, micro-breweries, distilleries, auto body shops, manufacturers, green houses, dentist offices, wineries, testing companies, recreational businesses, retail stores, dairy farms and more.

CWED Fund is here to help you fill the gap on your financing, or provide a micro loan for working capital, short term needs and to get through season or challenging business cycles. Our funds can support you through a growth period or prop you up temporarily when a pandemic invades the economy.

As a gap financing program, our fund is designed to be an incentive to businesses through our competitive interest rates and supportive loan guidelines. And for our current borrowers, we don't want your CWED loan to be a source of anxiety. We want you to have a sense of peace about working with us as a business partner.

Our community-minded board of directors is working to ensure the fund is sustainable and meets the needs of businesses across the seven-county region served by the CWED Fund.

If you have questions or concerns about your loan, or would like to inquire about a new loan from CWED, please contact our fund Administrator, Kristen Fish-Peterson, at 715-340-7930, or Kristen@redevelopment-resources.com.
